

"BILINGUAL AND BRILLIANT" 5 REASONS WHY

- When I was a child, one of my favourite languages to study was English. I have family in America so it was so cool to listen them speaking English. I think English is so practical, because you can use it a lot. Two years ago I went to United States and thanks to that I learned a little bit more. English is so important, and is a beautiful language you can find it in every place that you go. That's why here I write five reasons that English is brilliant:

① FOR TRAVELLING:

You have the possibility of communicate better (it opens doors to new cultures) And you can travel without thinking in what language you are going to speak to understand others.

② FOR STUDIES:

You have more opportunities in your studies, referring to universities, colleges, books etc... And is better studying different languages

③ FOR A FUTURE WORK:

Because is easier in the face of a professional working life, you can find a good work thanks to the languages.

④ COGNITIVE LANGUAGES:

The languages are so good to improve the work and the functionality of the mind.

⑤ THE SECOND SOUL:

Speaking another language is like having a second soul, because, you can think and talk in another language that isn't yours.

- This are my five reasons that being bilingual is magic, brilliant and so practic.

english is fantastic
