

Bilingual and Brilliant! 5 reasons why.

It all started on a Tuesday, 10th of February, when I entered my English class. I thought it was a normal day but when I saw our teacher talking us about this project, I saw all the advantages that we have by being bilingual. This is why I thought it was incredible:

1. Knowing a lot of languages: If you know more than one language, it is fantastic because you can travel and go on vacations without having problems with communication.
2. Speak fluently with other people: By being bilingual, you can speak with other people from other countries without looking at the phone to translate a word or phrase.
3. Understand foreignness: If someone from another country needs help and he talks to you or something, you can understand that person and give him an answer that helps him or her.
4. Living in another country (job): If an important opportunity appears to you for a job in another country, you can say yes if you know that language. Also in your country, in a job interview, it is more likely that they choose you for an important job if you know many languages.
5. Teaching others: Speaking and helping others is great, but it is nothing compared to teaching others. It is so satisfying to see someone learning thanks to you! Of course, to do this, you have to know that language.

I think after giving you these five reasons, you've seen how important it is to be bilingual! I'm very sure that you are right now really looking for to learn a lot of languages because of all the reasons I told you about!

Pedro Rosa Argués PESO B IES Sierra de Guara